

Kamryn Whitfield is the daughter of Kimberly and Brian Whitfield. Her devotion for art, creativity, and healthy living has remained consistent for most of her life, and she wants to share her passions and positivity with as many people as she can. Over the years, Kamryn has been part of the MSU Children's Choir, Waverly High School's JV and Varsity basketball teams, and the drumline. She graduated with honors from Waverly High School in 2016, and has gone on to study Culinary Arts and Nutrition at Johnson and Wales University. While in school, she enjoys designing clothes, listening to music, and encouraging others to make good decisions and be successful. Kamryn hopes for a career that involves inspiring others to become the best they can be through health and wellness, and she is very excited for her future.
